RE: Infringement of BNSF Trademarks and Trade Dress

Dear Mr. Arnold:

This is a follow up to our conversation and prior e-mails regarding the use of BNSF registered trademarks (the "Marks") on the Youngdahl Law Firm's (the "Firm") website. We understand that the billboard that was previously objected to has been removed, and we appreciate the Firm's cooperation in that matter. As of today, however, BNSF Marks are still in use on the Firm's website, specifically in the images (the "Images") depicted in the "Gallery" link, located at www.youngdahl.com.

The Firm's use of the BNSF Marks on its website dilutes the distinctive quality of BNSF's famous trade dress and famous marks. Furthermore, such use is a misleading representation of fact that tarnishes BNSF's reputation by suggesting that all FELA claims are claims made against BNSF. Accordingly, we again demand that the Firm immediately remove the Images from its website. This modification of your client's website is a relatively easy procedure that can be done quickly. If this is not completed by October 21, 2006, we will advise BNSF to consider taking all appropriate action in order to enforce and protect its legal rights.

Sincerely,
